

Word Given By: Pastor Nancy Dufresne

Word given to: the Body of Christ

Date: at World Harvest Church, CA, December 7th, 2014

(Tongues)...And what about the new year? What will this next year hold for those who are moving with the Word and the Spirit? Ah, more glory, more glory, greater glory. A greater measure, a greater measure of power, for power can be had in measures, power can be flowed within measures. For in James, it speaks of when we pray, we make a tremendous measure of power available, dynamic in its working. Therefore, power can be had in measures. So, the new year will hold a greater measure of power, a greater degree...a higher, a higher flow, a higher flow ...more, more power, greater power to bring about greater healings, greater miracles, greater manifestations, for manifestations can be had in a lesser or greater measure. So, next year is to be a year that holds greater. We thank You for it, Father.

(Tongues)...Now, what was just said is for those who are moving with this era, the remnant. For there is always a remnant who go on with God. There are those who are not of the remnant, because they have chosen to stay with what they planned, and what they formed, and what they formulated. And they will have to stay back in their formulas. They cannot move forward because their formulas have no movement in them. Their formulas have no power from God in them. It's just based on human power, in their human thinking, in their human reasoning; that holds them back.

But the "greater" is for the remnant who say, "We're going to move with the Word and the Spirit." This isn't just to this congregation, but to any congregation, any minister, any ministry, who says, "We're going to move with the Word and the Spirit"- next year is a year of greater.

Now, to those who are not moving, you won't see greater for them. You will see lesser and lesser and lesser, for they will diminish in power, diminish in influence, and diminish in visibility. Those who were once at the forefront, they will just recede into the background, and that's where they will stay, for that is where those who purpose not to move with God, that's where they belong.

But to those who say, "I'm going to move forward, I'm going to make the changes I need to make, I'm going to take the steps I need to take, and I'm going to do the things I need to do," then the greater awaits you.

And do not get downcast and sad and stay back with those who do not move forward. That was their choice. You just keep moving ahead, for the right choice moves you ahead.

Now, that is for the Body of Christ at large, but now this is for you individually, and for you as an individual member of the local church, and the Body of Christ.

(Tongues)... "What about me, personally, this next year? What about me individually?" as some would say. Well, (Tongues)... leave carnal, natural, low life things behind and reach for more, reach for more, use the faith that you have, express the faith that you have. Don't be content to be at the place you were. But next year, the year of greater, is to be greater for you – greater in your finances, greater in the anointing in your life, greater in the peace, greater in the joy, greater in health, greater in provision. Next year is to be a year of the greater! We thank You for that, Father.

But to move into the greater, you have to let go of the lesser. You have to turn your back on anything that would diminish, anything that would hold you into the natural, and into carnal, human ways of operating and thinking. You have to come into greater thinking to come into a greater flow.

So, continue to renew your mind, because there's a greater work to be done in your mind, for the mind is the gateway to the spirit. If the mind stops short of the greater, so will your spirit. But if your mind will move past human reasoning, human thinking, natural thinking, and embrace the thinking of the Word, then it will bring you into a greater flow of the Spirit, and then things will become easy for you. That which was difficult will be difficult no longer, but it will become easy for you.

So, this next year is to be a year of the greater, so say it with your mouth, say it in your home, say it over your family, say it over your business and over those things that are pertinent to your particular life. "My home is greater this year, my marriage is greater, my children move into greater, my mind moves into greater, my health moves into greater, greater."

And the personal life will then be carried into the church life. You cannot experience, as a congregation, the greatness of God has if people are not moving into that greatness in their individual lives. So, move into the greatness of the anointing for this next year, and as you do that individually, then the entire church family will step up. The congregation will step up. But if you don't, and live life as usual, and resume yesteryear's way of living, then it will be a hindrance to the moving forward as a church family. So know this, the way you conduct your personal life will affect this local family.

So, for the sake of the plan of God for this church family, reach into the greater, move into the greater, put a greater demand and expectation upon your own self, upon your own standards, and upon your own way of thinking. Bring it into the greater - bring it into a greater level of honor, a greater level of excellence, and a greater standard. We thank You, Father.
